

New Life Saving Adjunct.—Putting a life boat to sea by means of a special motor-tractor is the very latest innovation in marine life-saving methods. The vital parts of the tractor's machinery are enclosed in watertight boxes.

Georges At Work Too.—Georges Carpentier, Idol of France, is going about the task of getting into shape for his bout with Dempsey, with the energy for which he is noted. Much secrecy surrounds his activities, but that is part of the game, as Georges is a great believer in psychology and kindred subjects. We show Georges here.

Athletics Gaining.—One good that the war has brought us is the ever increasing interest in athletics. This interest is especially marked among the "weaker sex." The photo shows Miss Janet Snow, of the Oakmere School, N. Y., winning high jump in a recent scholastic meet.

Another International Entry.—Miss Edith Cummings, of Chicago, an "added starter" in the British Woman's Golf Championship Tournament, snapped on shipboard before sailing. Miss Cummings recently won the Woman's Florida Golf Championship.

Jack in Training.—Jack Dempsey is seriously training for his forthcoming battle with Georges Carpentier. Road work is part of his daily work and rough going does not cause him any concern. He is here shown leaping a fence.

Dolls of the World.—In construction and in dress, dolls reflect the customs and dress of the nations that they represent. This group represents every nation under the sun and one has but to study the photograph to prove the above assertion.

Wendy Advises.

—Wendy, Mascot of the Oxford boat crew has a word of advice for the athletes before they start on a practice heat in their shell.

"Snow Baby" and Babes.—Mrs. Edward Stafford, who was Miss Marie Peary, daughter of the late Admiral Peary, and her sons, Edward, Jr., and Peary. Mrs. Stafford has always been known as the "snow baby" because she was born in the far North, during one of her father's trips in quest of the North Pole.
